Day 01: Airport – Muthurajawela- Negombo (26 kms/ 45 minutes)

On arrival to Bandaranayake International Airport, Guests will be garlanded and welcomed by our representative, then transfer to Muthurajawela.

- Bird Watching at Muthurajawela Lagoon

Bird watching at Muthurajawela Wetland, near Negombo, offers a rich, 3-4 hour morning boat safari through mangrove forests, home to over 102 bird species, including kingfishers, herons, and eagles. Best visited December-April, the "Swamp of Royal Treasure" features guided boat tours to spot endemic birds. Early morning (around 6:30 AM – 7:00 AM) is recommended for better bird activity and to avoid the heat.

The lagoon has extensive mangrove swamps and attracts a wide variety of water birds including cormorants, herons, egrets, gulls, terns and other shorebirds. You would be able to see birds such as Cormorants, Ducks, Egrets, Herons, Storks, Eagles, Terns, Swallows, Swifts, Kingfishers and other resident birds.

What is willpatu National park :

Wilpattu National Park spans across the Puttalam and Anuradhapura districts and borders the Mannar and Vavuniya Districts. The area is one of the most important elephant habitats in the country and is also a great place to observe the elusive Sri Lankan leopard and the sloth bear.

This park has a denser forest cover unlike many other National Parks in Sri Lanka. WNP's landscape comprises of dry zone forests and thorny scrub interspersed with extensive open plains, sand dunes and the unique Villu wetlands. Bare reddish cliffs rising abruptly from narrow beaches of the Portugal Bay and Dutch Bay are another striking feature of its landscape.

Bird watching in Wilpattu National Park is a premier Sri Lankan experience, featuring over 200 species—including 11 endemics and 54 migrants—thriving around its unique villus (natural lakes) and forests. Key species include the Painted Stork, Brown Fish Owl, and Sri Lanka Junglefowl, with best viewing during the dry season (February– on the top of this rock and decorated its sides with colorful frescoes. On a small plateau about halfway up the side of this rock he built a gateway in the form of an enormous lion. The name of this place is derived from this structure —Sīhāgiri, the Lion Rock. The capital and the royal palace were abandoned after the king's death. It was used as a Buddhist monastery until the 14th century.

Sigiriya today is a UNESCO listed World Heritage Site. It is one of the best-preserved examples of ancient urban planning. It is the most visited historic site in Sri Lanka. King Kashyapa had reverted his fortress to an ecological wonder by having Royal Pleasure Gardens, Water Gardens, Fountain Gardens and Boulder Gardens made inside the inner city as well as at the palace premises on the Rock summit.

• Birding around Sigiriya

Bird watching in Sigiriya, a UNESCO World Heritage site, offers access to over 150 species, including 21 endemic birds, within a lush 5,000-hectare forest reserve surrounding the ancient rock fortress. Prime spotting times are 6:00 AM – 10:00 AM, with highlights including the Sri Lanka Junglefowl, Shaheen Falcon, Indian Pitta, and various kingfishers near water tanks.

- Visit Galle Dutch Fort

Galle Fort is a historic fort located on the southwest coast of Galle. Originally built by the Portuguese in 1588 and later expanded by the Dutch from 1649, it is also called the “Dutch Fort.” Its walls, ramparts, and buildings showcase a mix of European colonial and South Asian architectural styles.

Today, Galle Fort is a UNESCO World Heritage Site, home to old churches, cafés, boutique hotels, and mosques, with a multi-ethnic and multi-religious community living inside. The fort survived the 2004 tsunami and remains well preserved. Visitors can enjoy walking along the ramparts, exploring historic streets, and watching beautiful sunsets.
